Sterile Processing Certification Review Course

What is the Sterile Processing Certification Review Course? This course is designed to prepare central service, operating room, infection control and material management employees for the IAHCSSM Certified Registered Central Service Technical examination. Participation in this course does not guarantee passing of the exam.

Who should attend? Those individuals who currently work in central service or sterile processing units of local hospitals and surgery centers, including supervisors and managers who are looking to become a Certified and Registered Central Service Technician (CRCST) should attend. Certification requirements include the IAHCSSM certification exam and 400 hours of hands on training (accrued either before the exam or within 6 months of passing the exam). Participation in this course does not equate to Certification. Certification exams are held at the Prometric Test Center in Clarks Summit, PA. Upon successful completion of the training, attendees will receive a Johnson College certificate of completion.

What material is covered? Topics covered will include:

- Medical Terminology
- Anatomy & Physiology
- Microbiology
- Tools for Cleaning
- Cleaning and Decontamination
- Disinfection
- Infection Prevention, Surgical Instruments, Sterilization
- Regulations & Standards
- Quality Assurance, Safety
- Communication & Human Resource Skills

When is the training offered? Mondays and Wednesdays from 6:00pm – 8:15pm; March 5, 2012 through April 4, 2012.

Where is the training offered? Classes will be held in the Veterinary Building, Veterinary Classroom on Johnson College's campus located at 3427 North Main Avenue in Scranton, PA 18508.

How much is this course? The review course fee is $225 per person. Johnson College Alumni fee is $200. Testing Fees are not included.

Required Materials: Additional cost to the student will be the IAHCSSM Seventh Edition Central Service Technical Manual and Workbook (Boxed Set) which is available through the publisher at www.iahcsmm.org.
