

For Immediate Release

JOHNSON COLLEGE OFFERING TECHNOLOGY INSTRUCTOR TRAINING PROGRAM

Scranton, PA – March 3, 2009 – Johnson College is offering a Technology Instructor Training Program, a 24-hour course designed to prepare a field expert to become an effective instructor. Classes are three hours in length and held twice a week for four weeks – every Tuesday and Thursday from April 14-May 7, 2009 from 6:00pm-9:15pm in the Woolworth Building Carpentry Classroom.

By the end of the course, all applicants will present a mock teaching lesson. Applicants, who are interested in pursuing a career opportunity with the College, will be able to submit their taped mock teaching lesson for review by select faculty and staff. Note: completion of the course does not guarantee employment. Successful candidates will be included in a roster of qualified adjunct instructors and will be contacted as position openings occur at Johnson College.

Program fee is $250 and includes all classes and training materials. To register, please visit our website at www.johnson.edu/conted/training.html or please contact Stephanie Henkin at (570)702-8979.

Johnson College was founded in 1912, Johnson College is the region's premier technical college, offering associate degrees in 13 programs. An emphasis on hands-on instruction is supported by a low student-to-teacher ratio. Located in Scranton on a 44-acre campus, Johnson is an accredited, private, non-profit, co-educational institution with a strong tradition of working with regional business and industry to ensure a skilled and qualified workforce.
