HEAD: Kane is Able Donates Equipment to Johnson College

Kane is Able, Inc. and Action Lift, Inc. recently teamed up to donate a forklift to Johnson College. Richard P. Kane, President & CEO of Kane Is Able, Inc., has been enthusiastically following the progress of the College's Distribution & Supply Logistics program since it was announced in 2006.

"As a company with a professional interest in advancing the study of Logistics in northeastern Pennsylvania, we're delighted to support Johnson College's efforts to provide technologically educated workers to our industry," Mr. Kane upon presentation of the forklift to the College.

The donation supports one of Johnson's primary educational objectives of providing students with hands-on experience using equipment currently found in the workplace. Students in several technical programs including Diesel Truck, Carpentry & Cabinetmaking, and Distribution & Supply Logistics Technology will benefit by being trained in the proper use and handling of this type of equipment.

William F. Medico, President of Action Lift, Inc. added, "I'm very pleased to participate in this donation and assist Johnson College and its students."
